Dear Linda,
oh gosh, I don't where to begin or what to say.
We had lots of fun walking to school laughing like a couple of fools. And when you got talking about those stinkin' Braves, once you started
I was sure all the way to school.
Have fun thinking about "Good Old Hutchinson" your dear, dear friend.
I hope you have as much fun in your senior year as I had in mine. We had a ball, a regular BAH "O".
Well I continue this on

FOREWORD

Think of the days we have spent, and the steps we have taken during this, our school year of 1959. How insignificant each forgotten day seems; yet together, they made a most memorable school year. Let us relive these days once again, as we open the pages of our "Sayrenade" and retrace our "Footsteps."

DEDICATION

TO SAYRE HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS—PAST AND PRESENT

"TO THE TEACHER ABOVE"

D. L. Van Lanen

I sat alone

In the schoolroom today

After the children were gone

One by One.

I bowed my head

And thought what to say

To the Teacher above—

The Master—The Infinite One.

Lord, teach me to be

As a child of Thy school

That I may be tender

And kindly and true

To the highest profession

And calling and rule

Thou hast called any mortal

Humbly to do.

And help me, above all,

To carefully heed

My voice, my actions

My method, my goal;

Remembering I am the book

That they read,

And each of my scholars

Has a mind—and a soul,

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

A school yearbook records many of the school activities. It records the very things that are eventually termed "memories." However, yearbooks have difficulty revealing the characteristics of each and every individual. Yet, as one considers his accomplishments, he realizes that they are effected because of certain habits, attitudes and ideals.

This country is placing more and more emphasis on the educational program. To meet this demand, your school has endeavored to provide you with the type of training that is basically needed for your further development. Science, mathematics, languages, the arts have all been available to you because the individuals in your community, the taxpayers, wish to provide the best for their young citizens. We represent but one community in our great United States of America. As young men and young women are trained throughout the world, we in the United States can look with pride on our educational program, for it not only provides the opportunity for all to complete the high school curriculum, but it further provides opportunity for people who endeavor to guide our youth in the development of their habits, attitudes and ideals.

May your characteristics be such that as you take your place in our adult life, you will contribute of your time, talents, and money so that we shall always have men and women of the highest ideals who are so needed to keep our country strong.

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

FRANK S. WALK, JR

TO THE CLASS OF 1959

The years you have spent in the Sayre Schools have been happy years. The times have been both exciting and challenging. You are now products of the great American Public School System. Your school is as proud of you as you are proud of the school.

As we listen to the critics of our schools, let us remind them that this American system of education which they criticize is the same one from which came the people who built the first atomic bomb, who flew the first airplane, who launched the first atomic submarine, who led the world in thermonuclear experiments, who developed mass industrial production of automobiles, radios, and telephones, and who, by the way, gave the world sulfa drugs, terramycin and the Salk vaccine.

As we face the present challenge in education, we know full well that this is no time for a business-as-usual attitude. Nor is it a time for an abrupt upheaval or complete reorganization of our balanced program of education for all. The foundation of our educational system, built through generations of experience, is a balanced program of education in all disciplines of learning.

Our system of education seeks to develop citizens who can make intelligent choices in a free society. We shall need mathematicians and scientists to explore new frontiers; business and labor leaders who can make our economic system work; legal minds and public administrators who are honest and can operate a government of free men in a complex technological age; and doctors and nurses for health of body and mind. We shall need musicians, ministers, artists, poets and novelists who can serve the spiritual and esthetic aspirations of a free people. And above all, we need qualified educators to teach all people who will enter these callings. This is the real challenge to education today.

Don't waste time with the devil's work

SENIOR

Our yearbook editor has a brilliant look

Bobbie and Don enjoy a light lunch

The Senior Class is so refined!

"Sadie," was this well cast?

"Mac" Parr rests between stops

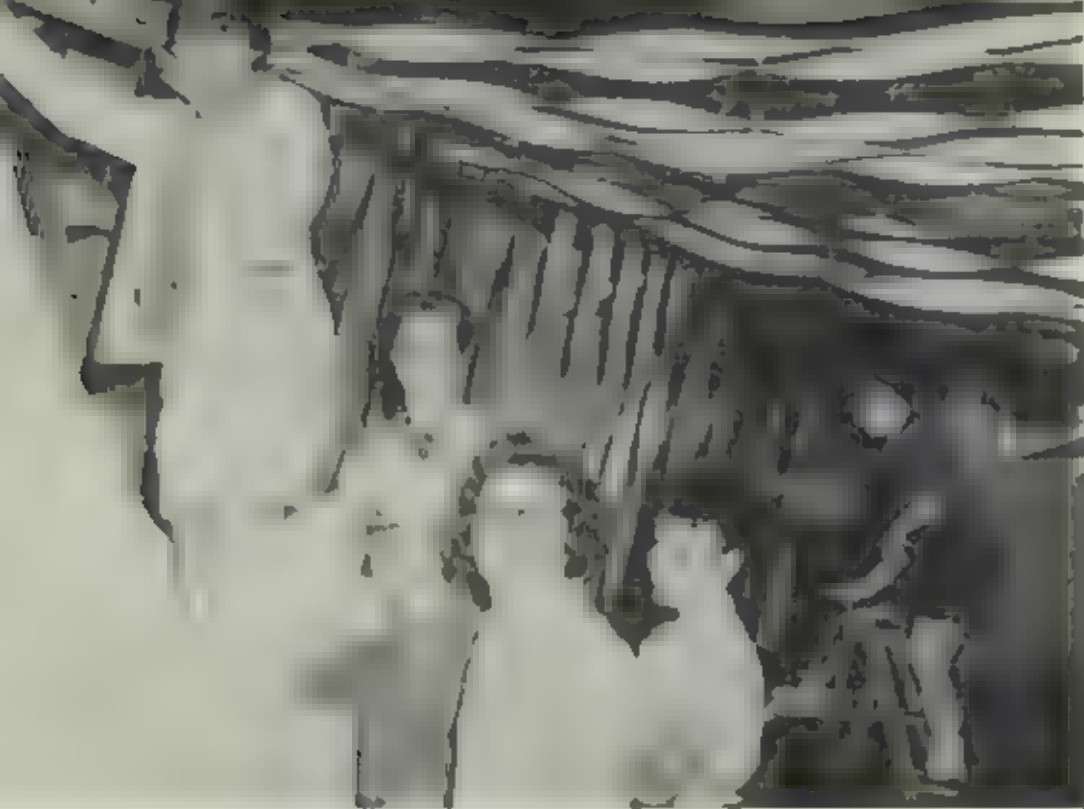

NAPS
 Don't you know what we had for a year as a senior who had a phone, 14-07
 Dugie

Is it Betsy and Betty, or Betty and Betsy?

These three kings could never be wise men

Last year's juniors decorate for "Sparkling Paradise."

"Mrs. Allis," Red, and Charlie converse behind the scene

The cast has a "nause that re-freshes" before Senior Play practice

Pierre helps collect boxes for the pep rally

Jeanette Welch Hill, the newest member of the Senior Class inspects her new locker

The younger set, composed of Norm, Keith, and Rock, amble for the "birds."

ACTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

B. Dugan, J. Nittinger, A. Field, K. Alteri

The Student Council, the student governing body of the high school, is composed of an elected member from each class and one at-large from the Junior and Senior Classes.

Supervised by Miss Ruth Tomlinson, the Student Council members give many responsibilities. Some of the various projects include maintaining an orderly lunch line, collecting clothing for the needy people of the Southern states, distributing handbooks containing vast information on Sayre High to new students, taking charge of the "March of Dimes" boxes in all home rooms, and selling Sayre High School book covers.

This fall the Sayre Student Council had the privilege of installing the Wyalusing Council. Later in the year, the Athens Student Council conducted the installation of the Sayre Council.

For the first time in the group's history, bronze pins engraved with the emblem of an open book and quill was given to each member of the Council as a token of membership.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society, which is under the supervision of Mrs. Agnes Flynn, is composed of outstanding students from the Junior and Senior Classes

The qualities which make a student eligible for membership are service, scholarship, and character

Members are chosen if they are in the upper ten per cent of their class or if they have an average of ninety or better

The students are elected to the Society by a two-thirds vote of the faculty

Juniors are chosen on probation, for they must attain first honor marks; then, in their senior year, they become permanent members

To be chosen as a member of the National Honor Society is one of the greatest honors bestowed upon a student in high school

NATIONAL THESPIANS

The National Thespians are students who have earned enough points in the field of dramatics to qualify for the society.

It is a non-secretive, but completely honorary, society. A total of thirteen points are required for membership. These points are accumulated by participating in plays, by applying make-up to cast members, and by taking part in the Redskin Review.

Along with the honor of belonging to this society, the students receive a year's subscription to Dramatics.

Mrs. Helone Wildrick supervises the organization with the assistance of the officers: Allen Field, president; Grace Moughan, vice president; Linda Solomon, secretary; Sandra Sager, treasurer; and Paul Kaplan, scribe.

Faculty, foreign students, and host and hostess at Nan's tea

Edgar tries to get a point across to Ed at the farewell assembly

FOREIGN

Nadia Domian
Lebanon

In cooperation with the Herald Tribune Youth Forum, Sayre was privileged to honor, for the sixth consecutive year, two foreign students

Nadia Domian, of Lebanon, and Edgar Gimotea, of the Philippines, were given the gracious hospitality of Nancy Theetge and Edward Rockman, respectively

The first social event in their honor was a tea given at the home of Nancy Theetge to acquaint the guests with the seniors and Sayre High teachers.

Nadia and Edgar attended classes daily and participated in the class discussions. They were taken on tours of the valley's industries, such as the Evening Times, the I. R. Shops, the Blue Swan Mills, and the Robert Packer Hospital

The "Brains" show Edgar a typical stag night

Mr. Snyder presents the coveted diplomas to Nadia and Edgar

One of several "after-school" seminars held in library feature Nadia and Edgar

Nadia and Edgar enjoy a "slow one" at Senior Party

TUDENTS

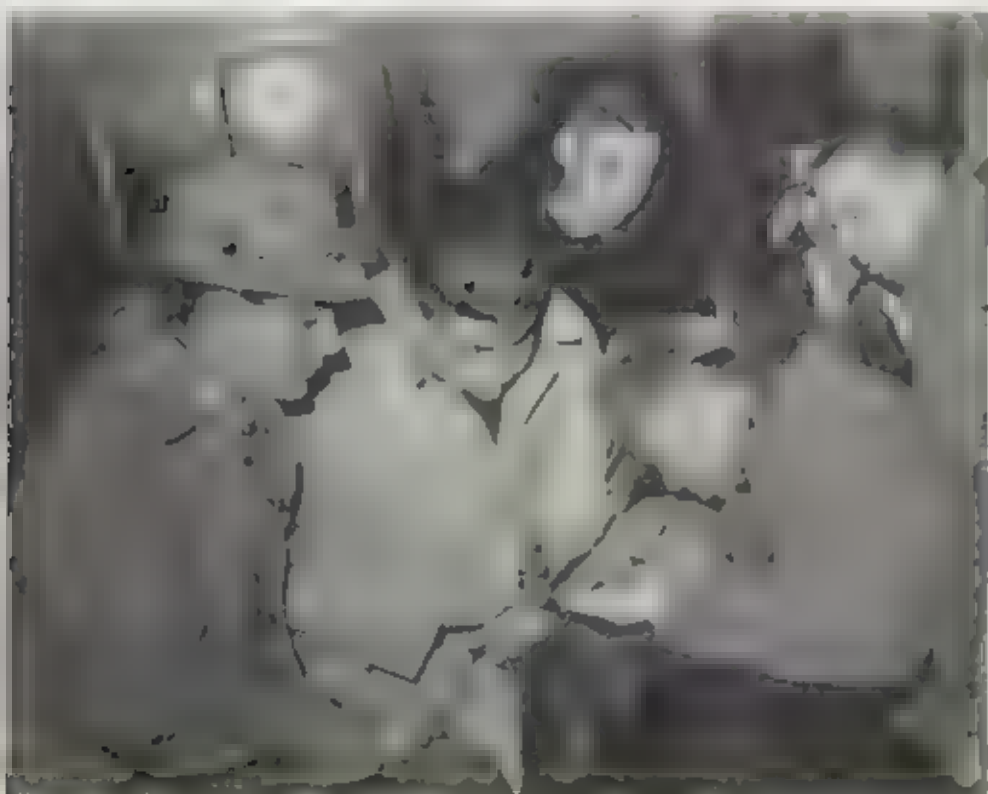

Attending a Sayre Borough Council meeting, enjoying a concert of the Boston "Pops" in Elmira, and cheering at local basketball games and wrestling matches gave our guests an insight of our "special nights out."

Nadia and Edgar took part in many panel discussions: one with the P.T.A., several in Sayre High in the form of after-school seminars, one in an assembly at Waverly High School, and another in a special assembly at which the students were given, by H. Austin Snyder, honorary diplomas

They were given an appropriate farewell at the Senior Party held January 15, 1959. The party, taking place at the Sayre Elk's Lodge, was in the form of a buffet-dance with dancing to records

Edgar obligingly signs autographs

Nadia and Edgar bid "Aurevoir."

JUNIOR PROM

Some couples enjoy a dreamy dance

QUEEN SANDRA HELIKER

The highlight of the evening was the coronation of the queen who was chosen from among the junior girls who attended the prom. Sandra Heliker was named Queen of the 1958 Junior Prom. Attired in a yellow gown with matching accessories, she was crowned by the president of the Junior Class, George Bryan

A sparkling waterfall provided a majestic setting for the queen's throne. The cascading effect was produced by stretching tin foil between white crepe paper streamers and covering this background with angel hair. The finishing touch was supplied by placing dry ice at the bottom of the falls. In front of the waterfall, there was a white wrought iron love seat from which the queen reigned over the dance

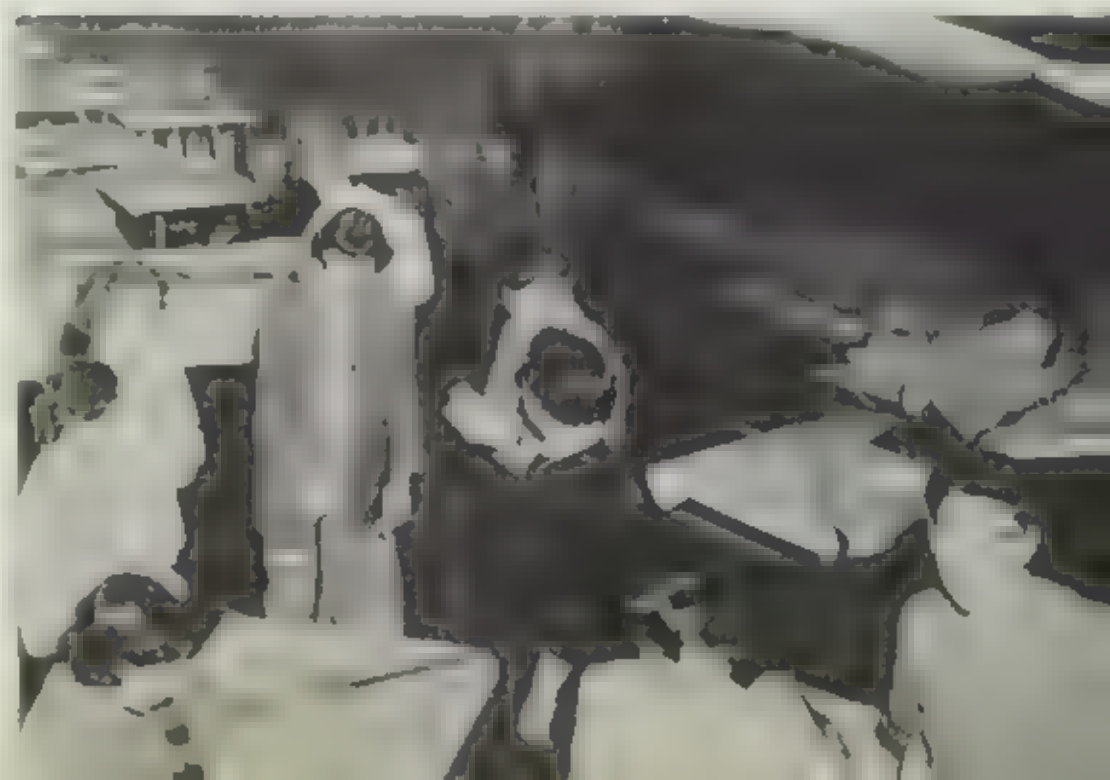

On the evening of May 9, 1958, this year's Senior Class sponsored its Junior Prom, "Sparkling Paradise," in the high school gymnasium. Music was provided by Don Alliger's band

The theme was beautifully carried out by making a ceiling of deep purple and lilac streamers. Silver sparkling stars accented the scene. A canopy of lilac and purple streamers covered the stairway

The center of attraction was the glistening waterfall beautifully decorated with silver, lilac, and white streamers, and tin foil, covered with angel hair

The tables were decorated with white crepe paper, complimented by frosted white candles sprinkled with silver dust. It was truly a "Sparkling Paradise."

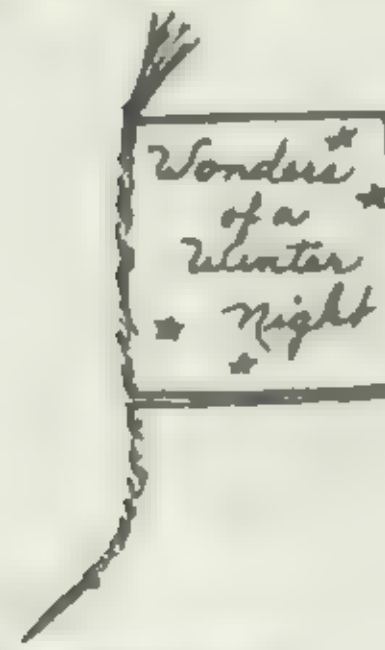

Getting ready for the big night are last year's Juniors

SENIOR PROM

QUEEN'S COURT: M. Tyson, L. Solomon, P. Derrig

QUEEN LINDA SOLOMON

Saturday, December 13, 1958, marked the date of the annual Senior Prom. The gymnasium was transformed into a "Wonders of a Winter Night." Drawn from a silver ball in the center of the gym, blue streamers formed a ceiling. Blue and silver bells were suspended from the ceiling all around the gym.

The tables were complimented by blue candles with a frosting that resembled snow.

As one descended the stairway to the dance floor, he found himself beneath a canopy of blue and silver streamers. Walking across the floor, one felt as if he were really in a winter wonderland.

The Dixie Cups from Mansfield State Teachers College provided the enjoyable music for the occasion.

Mike's in a trance

Our prom was climaxed by a dance for the senior girls and their escorts. During this dance, a committee of teachers selected a queen and two attendants to reign over the 1959 Senior Prom.

The three members of the court were announced by David Reynolds. Linda Solomon was chosen queen, with Mary Ann Tyson and Patricia Derrig as her attendants. Linda was crowned by the principal of the high school, Frank S. Walk. The president of the Senior Class, George Bryan, presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

Linda was attired in a blue gown, Mary Ann in an aqua gown and Patricia in a rose gown, all complimented with white accessories.

The background of the queen's throne was a winter scene complimented by a Christmas tree on each side.

Before a large audience, on April 26, 1958, this year's Senior Class presented its Junior Play, "Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal," adapted to the stage by Anne Coulter Martens from the book by Lloyd C. Douglas. This play was to be the last directed by Miss Geraldine Stocum before her recent departure for Africa.

Slowly, Grace becomes Nell Noble

Lesson number one by Mrs. Holst

For its Senior Play, the Senior Class selected "Little Nell, the Orphan Girl," a comedy melodrama in three acts by Nelson Goodhue.

Presented on the evening of November 22, 1958, the play was under the direction of Mrs. Gertude Holst. The action of the play took place in the drawing room of the Tillinghast mansion.

Nell Noble, the beautiful heroine, who fought to save her honor, found herself involved in a situation that could only be saved through the efforts of the hero, Twelawney Tillinghast. Daryl Blessingham, the villain, held the audience with his vicious plots and comical antics.

REDSKIN

Showboat's Coming!" This was the theme of the 1959 Redskin Revue. A large Showboat made up most of the background of the scenery painted by Francis Vail and Harold Brown with the assistance of Mrs. Delphne Krotzer, art supervisor of Sayre schools

The show consisted of many variety acts including choruses, chorus lines, pantomimes, and instrumentalists

"Daddy" was sung and danced by the Sayrettes

CAREER DAY

"Open Doors to Opportunity"—such was the theme of the ninth annual Career Day held November 10, 1958, under the sponsorship of Sayre's guidance director, W. Albert Mortimer. Career Day was organized to acquaint the sophomores, juniors, and seniors with various professions

The general assembly was held in the afternoon. The keynote speaker, Dr. Lewis W. Rathgeber, president of Mansfield State Teachers College, spoke about "Changing Times."

Later in the afternoon, the seniors and juniors were given an opportunity to attend a college conference of their choice

Since many students select band as their major extracurricular activity, it is one of the largest organizations in Sayre High School. This year the students take band as a regular subject, practicing over the noon hour on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

The band participates in many activities, such as the Halloween and Memorial Day parades and the annual May Day Festival.

Many projects are sponsored by the band during the year. These include the selling of magazines and candy to help purchase the juniors' sweaters.

AND

During football season, the band practices long hours to prepare for the halftime shows that have proved to be some of the best in the area. Prior to each game, the drum and bugle corps achieves an impressive effect as they unite with the band to play the national anthem. After the football season is terminated, the band begins practice in preparation for the annual spring concert, which was held on March 13.

CHORAL CLUB

One of the most highly renowned groups of Sayre High is the Choral Club which is under the direction of William Greenham.

Through bake sales, dances, and the School Board, the members were able to purchase white wool blazers for the girls and navy jackets for the boys. At Christmas, the appreciative group presented Mr. Greenham with a jacket identical to the boys.

The Choral Club has entertained Sayre High at many functions. The highly entertaining repertoires were presented at various assemblies at the invitation of the Athens Honor Society, at the D.A.R. Fundraising programs, in the Remembrance at the P.T.A. Fundraising Day Program, at the Acacia Club, and at special assemblies at the Susquehanna and Montrose High Schools.

Most of the members were given the opportunity to attend County Chorus. Those selected to participate in District Chorus were Mary Ann Tyson, alto, Les Little and John Perneck, tenors, and John Quaden, bass.

SENIOR CHORUS

Both Senior Chorus and Ninth Grade Chorus are directed by William Greenham. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors with vocal ability are permitted to join the Senior Chorus.

The Ninth Grade Chorus is a newly formed organization this year. They made their debut at the Freshman Banquet.

These two choruses and the Choral Club presented songs at Christmas and Easter. The Easter program had as its theme "Songs of America."

The accompanists for the various programs were Nancy Thetgen, Sandra Stought, Jan Rogers, Maria Tymosk, and Linden Carney.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

The F.T.A. club is proving to be a very informative one. Its main goals are to identify capable candidates for the teaching profession and to give them the necessary rate of information on the possibilities for teachers and to develop in candidates an awareness of responsibility of the teaching profession.

This club meets every Thursday during class period under the direction of Max Covey. This year they are trying to raise money to visit one of Pennsylvania's state teachers colleges.

The officers are Alice Talada, president; Rita Lyons, vice president; Gretchen Brehm, secretary; Ruth Tyson, treasurer; and Louise Bloich, historian.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

The F.H.A. club is composed of girls who study vocational home economics. The club offers to its members the opportunity of planning and carrying out further activities related to homemaking.

Many activities are carried out by the group which is under the instruction of Mrs. Elizabeth Collins. Officers are Lucile House, president; Katherine Maxine, vice president; Barbara Graham, secretary; Pat Ciavardini, treasurer; and Sherril Holden, chaplain.

During the meetings the club members tentatively plan for their future work, the creative planning and decorating of their own homes.

Last year through bake sales, dances, and other similar projects, the club raised enough money to buy jackets for its members.

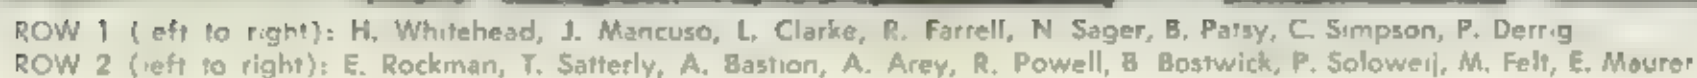

The Sophomore Dramatic Club, which is under the guidance of Miss Gertrude Host, has for a long time been extremely popular among the tenth grade students.

The members of the club are introduced to the art of make-up in a situation in which they act out skits and put the putting on theatrical make-up in the seclusion of their club meetings.

The officers of the club include Kathleen Martin, president; Paula McCarty, vice president; Judy Welby, treasurer; and Billie Merrick, secretary.

Students who have a keen eye and ear for news, they reported the Register-Courier. The club seeks out and reports on local happenings, contributing the Sayre High School to the Evening Times, Sayre's local newspaper. These articles appear every week.

The third year of wrestling at Sayre High proved to be very successful for the Redskins, as they compiled eight wins in eleven matches. Losing only three matches, two to Towanda and one to Wyalusing, and tying SRU in the other, the Redskins showed that they were much improved from the first two years.

Perhaps some of the credit for this fine record goes to senior Dale Loomis, who was undefeated except for one tie; Joe Anthony, and Charles MacNeal. These three were elected tri-captains. Lee Diehl, a junior, also remained undefeated.

At the season's end, the Redskins sent eight wrestlers to the semifinals of the Sectional Tournament. Joe Anthony became sectional champ in the 103-pound class.

MAY FESTIVAL

On the evening of May 13, 1959, the fruition of many long weeks of preparation climaxed with the crowning of Mary Ann Tyson as "Queen of May" before a most receptive audience which well filled the Lockhart Street Bowl.

Mary Ann, chosen by vote of the student body, was crowned by the king, John Kenish.

Attired in a white organdy gown over aqua taffeta, she reigned over the May Day festivities with the other members of her court. The court included: Emma Borits, Ann Quatrone, seniors; Rita Lyons, Alice Talada, juniors; Helen Walt and Ann Deubler, sophomores.

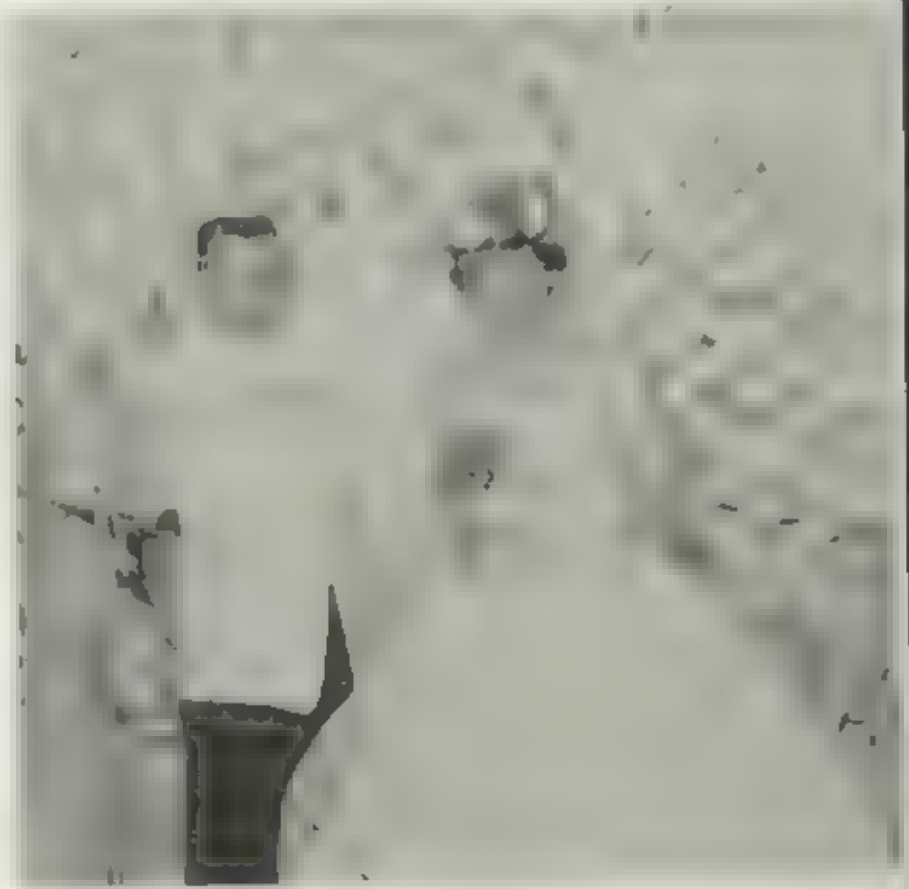

Students from the grade schools and high school of the Sayre system presented various skits before a large audience.

The "loveliest of the lovelies"—Mary Ann Tyson—reigns as Queen of the May Festival.

Sayre High Students display their interest in sports

Climaxing the Festival, Jack Kenish, the king, crowns Mary Ann—"Queen of the May."

Gymnasts offer a "Salute to Spring" with a little help from "fisherman Mike."

The May Court lends its feminine charm to a "Salute to Spring."

LAUREL QUEEN

Linda, chosen by her classmates to represent Sayre at the 18th Annual Pennsylvania State Laurel Festival on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, June 19, 20, and 21, traveled to Wellsboro, Pennsylvania, where she competed with some seventy other Pennsylvania Senior High School girls for the title of Pennsylvania State Laurel Queen

Linda was selected on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, charm and general appearance

The Laurel Festival is held each year to open officially the Laurel season in the Pennsylvania Grand Canyon County and to pay tribute to our state flower, the Mountain Laurel

This year Coach Francis Hunt's Redskins turned in a record to be proud of and capped this season's performance by winning the Roosevelt Trail League. Then by defeating Welisboro and Berwick, the team advanced to the district finals. A strong West Snder team defeated the Redskins to win the District IV Championship.

This season's performance was capably handled by the fine pitching of Dick Benjamin and the hitting of his teammates.

Dear Linda
Loads of Lusk with all your friends (boys) & remember New Year's + all your parties & helped you with. Remember to forget all our fights. Boy I sure helped teachers to like you this year as in History Boonetry + such I will continue my talents next year isn't that nice of me? Actually I have had a lot of fun this year and I suppose (darn!) you have to. Well • next year we will be seniors + just imagine all the fun we will have of course you know what kind anyway I can't think of much to talk about but of someone who I am not supposed to talk about as RFFF (the sound of a dog you know) I wonder who it will be next year
LDDD or someone anyway "Loads of Lusk"
